

Michael Chekhov

March 2, 1937

ENSEMBLE SPEECH

To all Directors: Always begin the rehearsal with a short exercise which will unify everyone. The closer your relationship is, the better the rehearsal will be. To be able to love someone who is a stranger to us is a wonder, and that is the basis of our art. Try to find exercises which will awaken this uniting.