

Michael Chekhov

October 10, 1936

Demonstration Lesson for Audience

DEMONSTRATION LESSON:

First you must concentrate on the audience - project your power to the audience - send out your love to the audience.

Exercises:

1. Concentrate on our audience.
2. Concentrate on the spot on the wall.
3. Actor's march - walking and running in a circle.
4. Staccato and legato exercises.
5. Fighting groups. Then one fighting group and one juggler group, with a middle group linking the outside groups.
6. Group divided into two lines approaching each other, clasping hands and saying, "I'm not sure that I can, but I will try to do it." Repeat in different tempos.